

2333 Morris Avenue • Suite A-204 • Union, NJ 07083 • 908-964-5303

Attention Early Intervention Families:

“Don’t Wait to Communicate!”

Does your child have a developmental disability?
Does your child have speech difficulties?
Is your child a “late talker”?

If you answered Yes to any of the questions, come learn how to help your child communicate by tapping into simple and inexpensive strategies.

- Learn how to use DAILY ROUTINES, SONGS and STORYBOOKS to provide communication opportunities
- Learn how to use NATURAL AIDED LANGUAGE when talking to your child
- Learn how to CHOOSE TOYS AND OBJECTS to promote interactive communication
- Learn about different types of COMMUNICATION AIDS that are commercially available.

When: Oct 4, 2010

Time: 6:30-8:30

Where: Bloomfield Public Library
90 Broad St. Bloomfield, NJ

Presented by Beth Breakstone, MS., Ed. CCC/SLP, a certified Speech-Language Pathologist who specializes in Augmentative Communication. She has worked with children of all ages with severe expressive language disorders and is an author and publisher of books for children with special needs.

Please register by calling 908-964-5303 or email Michellep@njeis.org